

The online submission system for the Journal of Bioscience and Bioengineering will be temporarily unavailable while we migrate to a new submission site on Editorial Manager®. As part of migration, all user accounts and submissions will be transferred to the new submission site.

- Scheduled downtime period:

Wednesday, February 19 at 12:30 (JST) –Thursday, February 20 at 16:30 (JST) ⇒World time clock

If you are an existing registered user of this journal, upon completion of the migration you will receive a confirmation email providing you with the URL of the new submission site and login instructions. You can then continue working as normal in the new site. We apologize for any inconvenience caused.
